GENOVESE/ECKERD CORPORATION,

CIVIL ACTION NO.:

PLAINTIFF'S MEMORANDUM OF
LAW, IN SUPPORT OF HIS MOTION IN LIMINE

I. INTRODUCTION

Plaintiff Patrick D'Cunha, born in 1952, is a pharmacist licensed in New Jersey. Defendant Genovese/Eckerd Corporation ("Eckerd") is the owner and operator of a chain of drug stores. Plaintiff originally brought claim of age discrimination in this district court. The district court granted defendant summary judgment as to all of plaintiff's claims. The Second Circuit reversed the grant of summary judgment as to those claims and remanded for trial. Pursuant to Federal Rules of Evidence 401, 402 and 403, plaintiff now moves this Court in limine to prohibit the introduction of evidence concerning: Defendant's Human Resource representative Lisa Ford's testimony regarding dates of hire of other pharmacists over 40, hired by Tran in 2001 and 2002 (These other pharmacists are not the comparators in this case; and defendant never asserted this evidence at any prior stage of this litigation).

II. ARGUMENT

Federal Rule of Evidence (FRE) 401 defines relevant evidence as evidence having any tendency to make the existence of any fact that is of consequence to the determination of the action more or less probable. Under FRE 402, only relevant evidence is admissible. Here, evidence concerning Defendant's Human Resource representative Lisa Ford's testimony regarding dates of hire of other pharmacists over 40, hired by Tran in 2001 and 2002 (These other pharmacists are not the comparators in this case; and defendant never asserted this evidence at any prior stage of this litigation), does not tend to make any material fact more or less probable. Therefore, all such evidence should be excluded under FRE 401 and 402.

Even if evidence concerning Defendant's Human Resource representative Lisa Ford's testimony regarding dates of hire of other pharmacists over 40, hired by Tran in 2001 and 2002, had any probative value, it would be substantially outweighed by the danger that such evidence would confuse and mislead the jury. See: FRE 403. The only proper focus of the jury in this case is whether the defendant discriminated against plaintiff on the basis of his age, when Tran refused to hire him on two occasions: August 2001 and February 2002. Any references to Defendant's Human Resource representative Lisa Ford's testimony regarding dates of hire of other pharmacists over 40, hired by Tran in 2001 and 2002, would merely confuse and distract the jury from its task. Therefore evidence concerning Defendant's Human Resource representative Lisa Ford's testimony regarding dates of hire of other pharmacists over 40, hired by Tran in 2001 and 2002, should be excluded under FRE 403.

III. CONCLUSION

For all the foregoing reasons and all of the pleadings and proceedings had herein, plaintiff respectfully requests that this Court grant his motion in limine.

I. INTRODUCTION

II. ARGUMENT

Federal Rule of Evidence (FRE) 401 defines relevant evidence as evidence having any tendency to make the existence of any fact that is of consequence to the determination of the action more or less probable. Under FRE 402, only relevant evidence is admissible. Here, evidence concerning the fact of plaintiff's unsuccessful job search prior to August 2001 interview with Tran, does not tend to make any material fact more or less probable. Therefore all such evidence should be excluded under FRE 401, and 402.

Even if evidence concerning plaintiff's unsuccessful job search prior to August 2001 interview with Tran, had any probative value, it would be substantially outweighed by the danger that such evidence would confuse and mislead the jury. See FRE 403. The only proper focus of the jury in this case is whether the defendant discriminated against the plaintiff on the basis of his age when Tran refused to hire him on two occasions, August 2001, and February 2002. Any references to plaintiff's unsuccessful job search prior to August 2001, would merely tend to confuse and distract the jury from its task. Jury may correlate plaintiff's inability to get job elsewhere prior to August 2001, to his lack of qualification for Pharmacist job in New Jersey with Eckerd. Therefore evidence concerning plaintiff's unsuccessful job search prior to August 2001 interview with Tran, should be excluded under FRE 403.

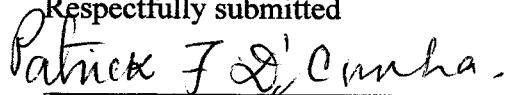

III. CONCLUSION

For all the foregoing reasons and all of the pleadings and proceedings had herein, and in light of the 2nd circuit's remand, plaintiff respectfully requests that this Court grant his motion in limine.

The district court granted defendant summary judgment as to all of plaintiff's claims. The Second Circuit reversed the grant of summary judgment as to those claims and remanded for trial. Pursuant to Federal Rules of Evidence 401, 402 and 403, plaintiff now moves this Court in limine to prohibit the introduction of evidence concerning:

discharge of plaintiff D'Cunha from, Walgreens (in 2005) for substandard performance, and testimony of John Colaizzi Jr. (Walgreen's District Pharmacy Supervisor), regarding plaintiff's employment with Walgreens.

II. ARGUMENT

Federal Rule of Evidence (FRE) 401 defines relevant evidence as evidence having any tendency to make the existence of any fact that is of consequence to the determination of the action more or less probable. Under FRE 402, only relevant evidence is admissible. Here, evidence concerning the fact of plaintiff's discharge from, Walgreens for substandard performance and testimony of John Colaizzi Jr. (Walgreen's District Pharmacy Supervisor), regarding plaintiff's employment with Walgreens does not tend to

I. INTRODUCTION

Plaintiff originally brought claim of age discrimination in this district court. The district court granted defendant summary judgment as to all of plaintiff's claims. The Second Circuit reversed the grant of summary judgment as to those claims and remanded for trial. Pursuant to Federal Rules of Evidence 401, 402 and 403, plaintiff now moves this Court in limine to prohibit the introduction of evidence concerning:

Plaintiff's education at St. John's University (including plaintiff's experience as a victim of bias at the time, other similar incidents and plaintiff's year of Graduation from St. John's in 1994)

II. ARGUMENT

Federal Rule of Evidence (FRE) 401 defines relevant evidence as evidence having any tendency to make the existence of any fact that is of consequence to the determination of the action more or less probable. Under FRE 402, only relevant evidence is admissible. Here, evidence concerning the fact of Plaintiff's education at St. John's University (including plaintiff's experience as victim of bias at the time and the year of Graduation), does not tend to make any material fact more or less probable in this case. Therefore, all such evidence should be excluded under FRE 401 and 402.

Even if evidence concerning plaintiff's education at St. John's University (including plaintiff's experience as a victim of bias at the time) had any probative value, it would be substantially outweighed by the danger that such evidence would confuse and mislead the jury. See: FRE 403. The only proper focus of the jury in this case is whether the defendant discriminated against plaintiff on the basis of his age, when Tran refused to hire him on two occasions: August 2001 and February 2002. Any references to Plaintiff's education at St. John's University (including plaintiff's experience as a victim of bias at the time) would merely confuse and distract the jury from its task. Jury may correlate unrelated incidents of bias at St. John's University to a tendency in Plaintiff to scream discrimination everywhere; additionally, jury may correlate Plaintiff's inability to get a job since his graduation in 1994 till 2001 as plaintiff's lack of qualification for job with Eckerd in 2001. Therefore evidence concerning plaintiff's education at St. John's University (including plaintiff's experience as victim of bias at the time) should be excluded under FRE 403.

~~GENOVESE~~^{v.} ECKERD CORPORATION

MOTION IN LIMINE #9

Defendants,

MOTION IN LIMINE MADE BY Plaintiff D'Cunha

Plaintiff D'Cunha moves the Court, before voir dire of the jury, for its order to be entered before voir dire of the jury:

1. To instruct the attorney for the Defendant Genovese/ Eckerd Corp. (Eckerd) not to interrogate witnesses concerning the items set out on the following pages, or to mention to the jury in any manner those items, without first obtaining permission of the Court outside the presence and hearing of the jury; and

2. To instruct the attorneys for Eckerd to personally admonish their clients and witnesses to refrain from mentioning to the jury in any manner the items set out on the following pages, without the attorney first obtaining permission outside the presence and hearing of the jury.

The items which are not to be mentioned to the jury are set out on the following pages.

A place for the court to indicate its decision on each subpart of this motion is found at each subpart. A form of order is found on the last page of this instrument.

This motion is made on the following grounds:

A). The matters set out on the following pages are immaterial and inadmissible. Were any of such matters made known to the jury, it would be improper. It would be prejudicial, even though the Court were to sustain an objection and instruct the jury not to consider such facts for any purpose. In all probability, any such situation could result in grounds for a mistrial in spite of attempts by the Court to cure the situation. Ordering the jury to disregard interrogation, comments, or offers in front of the jury would not cure such prejudice, but rather reinforce the impact of such prejudicial matters on the minds of the jurors.

B). The granting of this motion cannot be error because it merely requires permission to be asked before prejudicial information is suggested to the jury. The motion here asks only that counsel advise the Court outside the presence of the jury, at such time as he intends to go into the questionable items, so the Court may make its ruling at that time on the proffered question, remark, testimony, or exhibit. The Court in this way will be best able to fulfill its function in keeping the record free of error and prejudice.

As stated in A) → Plaintiff's basis for this request is F.R.Evid. 401, 402 & FRE 403

Plaintiff,

v.

LAW, IN SUPPORT OF HIS MOTION IN LIMINE

I. INTRODUCTION

Plaintiff Patrick D'Cunha, born in 1952, is a pharmacist licensed in New Jersey. Defendant Genovese/Eckerd Corporation ("Eckerd") is the owner and operator of a chain of drug stores. Plaintiff originally brought claim of age discrimination in this district court. The district court granted defendant summary judgment as to all of plaintiff's claims. The Second Circuit reversed the grant of summary judgment as to those claims and remanded for trial. Pursuant to Federal Rules of Evidence 401, 402 and 403, plaintiff now moves this Court in limine to prohibit the introduction of evidence concerning: Expert testimony of Mr. Phraner concerning the location of Defendant's pharmacies in Sussex and Vernon, New Jersey, and their accessibility by public transportation (never mentioned Vernon's accessibility at any prior stage of this litigation).

II. ARGUMENT

Federal Rule of Evidence (FRE) 401 defines relevant evidence as evidence having any tendency to make the existence of any fact that is of consequence to the determination of the action more or less probable. Under FRE 402, only relevant evidence is admissible. Here, evidence of Expert testimony of Mr. Phraner concerning the location of Defendant's pharmacies in Sussex and Vernon, New Jersey, and their accessibility by public transportation does not tend to make any material fact more or less probable. Therefore all such evidence should be excluded under FRE 401, and 402.

Even if evidence of Expert testimony of Mr. Phraner concerning the location of Defendant's pharmacies in Sussex and Vernon, New Jersey, and their accessibility by public transportation had any probative value, it would be substantially outweighed by the danger that such evidence would confuse and mislead the jury. See FRE 403. The only proper focus of the jury in this case is whether the defendant discriminated against the plaintiff on the basis of his age when Tran refused to hire him on two occasions, August 2001, and February 2002. Any references to Expert testimony of Mr. Phraner concerning the location of Defendant's pharmacies in Sussex and Vernon, New Jersey, and their accessibility by public transportation would merely tend to confuse and distract the jury from its task. Jury may correlate Tran, Ms. Dolan and George Kowalski's testimony regarding job market for pharmacists in 2000, through the present, with lack of pharmacist positions with Eckerd.

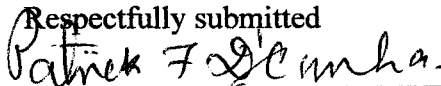

Therefore evidence concerning Tran, Ms. Dolan and George Kowalski's testimony regarding job market for pharmacists in 2000 through the present should be excluded under FRE 403.

III. CONCLUSION

For all the foregoing reasons and all of the pleadings and proceedings had herein, and in light of the 2nd circuit's remand, plaintiff respectfully requests that this Court grant his motion in limine.

I. INTRODUCTION

Plaintiff originally brought claim of age discrimination in this district court. The district court granted defendant summary judgment as to all of plaintiff's claims. The Second Circuit reversed the grant of summary judgment as to those claims and remanded for trial. Pursuant to Federal Rules of Evidence 401, 402 and 403, plaintiff now moves this Court in limine to prohibit the introduction of evidence concerning Testimony of pharmacists Louis Musto (DOB: 1943), Raymond Zablocki (DOB:1943) and Harold Lederman (DOB: 1940), each of these belonging to protected age class, but only Musto was hired by Tran, for New Jersey.

II. ARGUMENT

Federal Rule of Evidence (FRE) 401 defines relevant evidence as evidence having any tendency to make the existence of any fact that is of consequence to the determination of the action more or less probable. Under FRE 402, only relevant evidence is admissible. Here, evidence concerning Testimony of pharmacists Louis Musto (DOB: 05/08/1943), Raymond Zablocki (DOB: 10/11/1943) and Lederman Harold (DOB: 01/26/1940), each of these belonging to protected age class does not tend to make any material fact more or less probable as they are not proper comparators in this case. Plaintiff is making a case of Disparate treatment, not Disparate impact. Also, Zablocki and Lederman were Not hired for New Jersey position at all. Defendant did not make this assertion any time prior in this litigation. Finally, none of these three pharmacists is a proper comparator, as Plaintiff did not lose his job to them, instead, Defendant has asserted time again that Ms. Stern and Ms. Babeu were hired in August 2001, and February 2002, respectively in place of Plaintiff who was rejected.

Therefore all such evidence should be excluded under FRE 401 and 402.

Even if evidence concerning testimony of Pharmacists Musto, Zablocki and Lederman had any probative value, it would be substantially outweighed by the danger that such evidence would confuse and mislead the jury. See FRE 403. The only proper focus of the jury in this case is whether the defendant discriminated against plaintiff on the basis of his age, when Plaintiff (49 and 50 at relevant times) was rejected on two occasions and jobs were offered to Ms. Stern(47) and Ms. Babeu(42) instead. Any reference to any other issues including the testimony of other pharmacists hired by Tran that are in protected age class, would merely confuse and distract the jury from its task. Therefore testimony of Pharmacists Musto, Zablocki and Lederman should be excluded under FRE 403.

III. CONCLUSION

For all the foregoing reasons and all of the pleadings, including Summary judgment, Motion to reconsider proceedings and 2nd Circuit's remand, plaintiff respectfully requests that this Court grant his motion in limine.

I. INTRODUCTION

Plaintiff Patrick D'Cunha, born in 1952, is a pharmacist licensed in New Jersey.

Defendant Genovese/Eckerd Corporation ("Eckerd") is the owner and operator of a chain of drug stores. Plaintiff originally brought claim of age discrimination in this district court. The district court granted defendant summary judgment as to all of plaintiff's claims. The Second Circuit reversed the grant of summary judgment as to those claims and remanded for trial. Pursuant to Law of the Case doctrine plaintiff now moves this Court in limine to ORDER that this trial will be held only to decide, "whether the reasons given for not hiring D'Cunha were pretextual such that a jury could reasonably find that D'Cunha suffered an adverse employment action because of his age."

II. ARGUMENT

Law of the Case Doctrine:

"The law of the case doctrine posits that when a court decides upon a rule of law, that decision should continue to govern the same issues in subsequent stages in the same case,” United States v. Alvarez, 142 F.3d 1243, 1247 (10th Cir. 1998).

“Accordingly, when a case is appealed and remanded, the decision of the appellate court, establishes the law of the case and ordinarily will be followed by both the trial court on remand and the appellate court in any subsequent appeal.” Id.(Quoting Rohrbaugh v. Celotex Corp., 53 F.3d 1181, 1183 (10TH Cir. 1995). “This doctrine is based on sound public policy that litigation should come to an end and is designed to bring about a quick resolution of disputes by preventing continued re-argument of issues already decided.” Id.(Quoting Gage v. General Motors Corp., 796 F.2d 345, 349 (10th Cir. 1986)). (Citations omitted). The rule “ also serves the purpose of discouraging panel shopping at the court of appeals level.” Monsisvais, 946 F.2d at 116.

As a direct application of this doctrine, Plaintiff respectfully requests the court to take judicial notice of 2nd Circuit’s Per Curiam opinion; See:D’Cunha v. Genovese/Eckerd Corp., 479 F.3d 193(2d Cir. 2007). The 2nd Circuit said, “In this case, the district court failed properly to apply this burden-shifting framework. Undertaking that analysis, we conclude that there remains a genuine issue of material fact. Under the first step of McDonnell Douglas, we note that D’Cunha, aged 49 and 50 at relevant times, is within protected class. D’Cunha was also qualified for the job; a licensed pharmacist, D’Cunha met the standards of Eckerd’s employability test. Moreover, D’Cunha suffered an adverse employment action; Eckerd rejected him twice, instead offering jobs to two other people. These circumstances give rise to an inference of discrimination; one of the individuals who was offered a position was eight years younger than D’Cunha. Terry v. Ashcroft, 336 F.3d at 137-38. This difference in age - though not large - is significant enough to support an inference in D’Cunha’s favor. Cf. Tarshis v. Riese Org., 211 F.3d 30, 38 (2nd Cir. 2000), abrogated on other grounds by Swierkiewicz v. Sorema N.A. 534 U.S. 506 (2002)(stating that, on a motion to dismiss, an inference of discrimination may be based upon an age difference of as little as eight years).” Id. At 195.

The 2nd Circuit further said, “One of Eckerd’s assertion is not legitimate. As D’Cunha quite correctly argues, the hiring of a person within the protected age group, Babeu, instead of D’Cunha is not determinative under the ADEA, “the fact that one person in the protected class has lost out to another person in the protected class is ...irrelevant, so long as he has lost out because of his age.” O’Connor v. Consol. Coin Caterers Corp., 517 U.S. 308, 312 (1996).”

The 2nd Circuit further states, “Under the third step of McDonnell Douglas, D’Cunha bears the burden of demonstrating Eckerd’s reasons were pretextual. Accordingly, D’Cunha argues that although Stern was offered a job because she had prior experience, no managerial experience was required for the job. In addition, notes D’Cunha, the record indicates that as of August 23, 2001, there were eight full time pharmacist positions open in Tran’s area. Finally, although Tran’s asserted reason for not offering D’Cunha the Sussex job was that he thought D’Cunha would not want it because it was inaccessible by public transportation, the record indicates that the Sussex store is in fact, accessible by public transportation.”

The 2nd Circuit concludes, “This analysis reveals that there remain genuine issues of material fact as to whether the reasons given for not hiring D’Cunha were pretextual such that a jury could reasonably find that D’Cunha suffered an adverse employment action because of age. The district court’s order granting summary judgment is therefore reversed and the case is remanded with instructions to deny Eckerd’s motion for summary judgment.” See: D’Cunha v. Genovese/Eckerd Corp., 479F.3d 195,196 (2nd Cir. 2007).

Plaintiff therefore respectfully requests this court for an ORDER declaring that this case will go to trial, only to decide whether Eckerd’s reasons for not hiring D’Cunha were pretextual, as the 2nd Circuit has instructed in the Per-Curiam opinion above as Plaintiff has already proved his Prima Facie Case of Age discrimination.

III CONCLUSION

For all the foregoing reasons and all of the pleadings and proceedings had herein, plaintiff respectfully requests that this Court grant his motion in limine.

I. INTRODUCTION

Plaintiff Patrick D'Cunha, born in 1952, is a pharmacist licensed in New Jersey.

Defendant Genovese/Eckerd Corporation ("Eckerd") is the owner and operator of a chain of drug stores. Plaintiff originally brought claim of age discrimination in this district court. The district court granted defendant summary judgment as to all of plaintiff's claims. The Second Circuit reversed the grant of summary judgment as to those claims and remanded for trial. Pursuant to Federal Rules of Evidence 201, plaintiff now moves this Court in limine to take JUDICIAL NOTICE of the fact that : Plaintiff Patrick D'Cunha was not discharged from Walgreens in October 2005 for misconduct.

II. ARGUMENT

Defendant Eckerd intends to introduce evidence that will tend to show that Plaintiff failed to mitigate his damages with regard to the job he had obtained with Walgreens. The real intention of the Defendant is to confuse the jury regarding issues in this case. As Plaintiff has produced document from Walgreens Personnel Records Administrator Rose Wszolek (dated: October 26, 2005)(See: Exh. 37.1 and 38.1-

NJ Department of Labor: Notice of Determination

38.2) that states clearly that "Mr D'Cunha was discharged for substandard performance."

Despite the fact that Plaintiff D'Cunha disputes this statement, the issue here is totally different. The real issue in this case is whether D'Cunha was discharged for misconduct?

The answer is NO. The NJ DOL determined D'Cunha eligible for Unemployment benefits, as he did Not wilfully and deliberately disregard Employer's standard of behavior at the Job.

The Defendant clearly knows that Plaintiff's claim to back pay stops if he is discharged from subsequent job for misconduct, which does not apply in D'Cunha's case. The reason Eckerd intends to introduce this evidence is to distract the jury so that they may correlate Plaintiff's alleged substandard performance with possible lack of qualification for Eckerd job, nearly 4 years prior, in 2001.

As these document clearly show that Plaintiff was discharge for reasons other than misconduct from Walgreens, the Honorable Court must take Judicial Notice of the fact that Plaintiff D'Cunha was not discharged from Walgreens for misconduct.

III. CONCLUSION

For all the foregoing reasons and all of the pleadings and proceedings had herein, and in light of the 2nd circuit's remand, plaintiff respectfully requests that this Court grant his motion in limine.

Plaintiff,

v.

~~GENOVESE~~/ECKERD CORPORATION,

Defendant.

CIVIL ACTION NO.:
02-CV-4157(CRW)(LB)

PLAINTIFF'S MEMORANDUM OF
LAW, IN SUPPORT OF HIS
MOTION IN LIMINE

I. INTRODUCTION

Plaintiff Patrick D'Cunha, born in 1952, is a pharmacist licensed in New Jersey.

Defendant Genovese/Eckerd Corporation ("Eckerd") is the owner and operator of a chain of drug stores. Plaintiff originally brought claim of age discrimination in this district court. The district court granted defendant summary judgment as to all of plaintiff's claims. The Second Circuit reversed the grant of summary judgment as to those claims and remanded for trial.

Pursuant to Federal Rules of Evidence 1006, Plaintiff requests to introduce following Exhibits as Demonstrative Evidence:

1. TIME LINE : of events in this case (Dates of Plaintiff's interviews with Tran and Dolan and Complaint to Dolan in February 2002.
2. PLAYERS in this case: Plaintiff D'Cunha, Tran : Eckerd's DPS, Dolan: Eckerd's Pharmacist Recruiter, Bowls: Eckerd's DM,
3. TUTORIAL: – As memory aid to understand the following aspects:
 - a. Applicants for entry level Pharmacist positions,

- b. Pharmacist, Structured Interview Questions, used by Eckerd as an Employability test for candidates
- c. All Issues about Sussex:
 - i. Hiring authority for Sussex,
 - ii. Accessibility of Sussex, by public transportation,
 - iii. Tran's refusal to give Sussex Info.
 - iv. Tran's statement about applicants and their responsibility to get to the store, once job is offered.

Objection: Relevance (F.R.E. 402, 403); Unduly Prejudicial (F.R.E. 403); Evidence to Prove Conduct, to wit, character, other bad acts (F.R.E. 404); Inadmissible Hearsay (F.R.E. 802)

- 4. Excerpts from Tran's Deposition testimony, as enlarged exhibits, for impeachment purpose.
- 5 Plaintiff's Damages: and Mitigation of Damages

II. ARGUMENT

Charts that summarize otherwise admissible data should be admissible themselves under Rule 1006 of the Federal Rules of Evidence. See: 3 Wigmore Evidence Section 790 (Chadbourn rev.) United States v. May, 622 F.2d 1000, 1007, cert. Denied, 449 U.S. 984(1980).

"Much evidence becomes more comprehensible when presented with visual aids, such as a chart summarizing data, a chronology, and enlarged picture of an object, a diagram of a building or a map." The comment to ABA Civil Trial Practice Standards, citing Judge William M. Schwartz's Reforming Jury Trials, 132 F.R.D. 575, 588 (1990)

- 1) Federal Rule of Evidence (FRE) 401 defines relevant evidence as evidence having any tendency to make the existence of any fact that is of consequence to the determination of the action more or less probable. Under FRE 402, only relevant evidence is admissible. Here, evidence concerning Timeline of events in this case, the Players in this case, applicants for entry level pharmacist position, Pharmacist Structured Interview Questions and issues about Sussex, excerpts from Tran and Plaintiff's Deposition and Plaintiff's Damages does tend to make material facts more or less probable. Therefore all such evidence should be included under FRE 401, and 402.

Specifically Timeline of of events in this case (Dates of Plaintiff's interviews with Tran and Dolan and Complaint to Dolan in February 2002. would help jury understand the case more clearly help make their deliberations more easy and efficient. Similarly the players in this case would help jury understand better the events by knowing the individuals who are involved in this case.

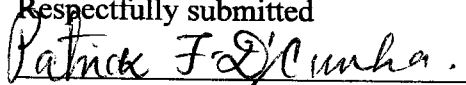

Courts do encourage use of the most concise and understandable formats for presentation of courtroom evidence.

F.R.E. 403 does not apply here as the probative value of this evidence outweighs prejudicial impact if any.

III. CONCLUSION

For all the foregoing reasons and all of the pleadings and proceedings had herein, plaintiff respectfully requests that this Court grant his motion in limine.
